[1760-1820]

HANNA LAUTERBACH

Her grandson Asher Selig Lauterbach (3)writes in his MINḤAT EREV (Essay EYN HAMAYIM):

And there was famine in the land and men searched in the dust for food, and the victims of hunger lay in the very streets. And my grandmother went to the Rabbi of the city and gave him all her jewels to sell them and distribute money to the poor of Israel. Her husband was away from home on a journey and he returned and saw her clad in a simple dress and asked her what this meant. And she answered him: 'Let not your anger fall upon me for the ways of women with adornments are not my ways, for I have sworn with the Almighty that throughout the days of my life I shall not adorn, nor beautify myself with pearls and precious stones or any ornaments of silver and gold'. And so it was all the days of her life.

HAYA BINA EISEN née LAUTERBACH

Her nephew Asher Selig Lauterbach (3)writes in his MINḤAT EREV (Essay EYN HAMAYIM):

My aunt has departed from us and with her passing the crown of our joy has been taken from us. She who stretched forth the hand of help to the poor and the wayfarer, who divided her wealth with the needy and wiped away the tears of the suffering, she has left us. Whither has departed the saintly woman who clad the bride in joyful robes, who rejoiced the souls of the suffering that sorrow might be lifted from their faces, who scattered silver and gold to all who asked help?

She kept the commandment 'Appoint a fixed time for the law'. In her house there was a large room with treasure of many books which she set aside for the study of the Law, and there learned men gathered day and night to ponder the Law, and chief among them her husband, a God-fearing man and a keen scholar who studied the Law continuously. She looked to his food and needs from the day he came to her house till the day of her death, while he stayed in the room of prayer and study. Many came to learn the word from him for he was a great man. And she also made it possible for a number of men to devote themselves to the Law, and at her death her lack was sorely felt.

JACOB BEZALEL LAUTERBACH

His son Asher Selig (3) writes in his MINḤAT EREV (Essay EYN YAACOV):

He was an upright man and his desire was centred in the Law of the Lord which he pondered by day and night. His dealings with men proceeded in peace and with honour and thus dealt he also when he gave alms to the poor. And for this was he loved and held in great affection. At the end of his days he turned aside from worldly affairs and left his house and his sons and grandchildren (may the Lord increase their number) and journeyed to the land of Canaan to engage there without hindrance in the service of the Lord. All who knew him honoured and respected him greatly, and when he died in the holy city of Safad (may it be rebuilt and re-established speedily in our days) a great multitude gathered to mourn over his grave at the passing of a precious soul. His spirit is alive among us to this day.

ZVI HERSCH LAUTERBACH

writes in his MINḤAT EREV (Essay EYN TANIM):

When he passed away he was mourned deeply by the people of his town for he was honoured and loved among his community. Especially was he remembered for his righteousness and loving kindness in that he stirred himself, joyful in the fulfilment of a commandment, to bring every new-born boy into the Covenant of Abraham our Father. Neither rain nor snow could prevent him from answering a call to the circumcision ceremony. Often he would walk several miles to fulfil his self-imposed duty, and there were times when he would leave his home and family and journey to some remote village to spend the Sabbath there, so precious in his eyes was the fulfilment of the Lord's commandment. Ever was he ready in his dealings with men to bow to the will of others.

אשר זעליג הכהן לויטראבאך

קיצור אוטוביוגראפיה שנרפסה ב"ספר זכרון" הנערך בבית מערכת "האסיף", תרמ"ט

ותבונה אשר לא ממעי יהודה יצאו רוחם זרה. ככה חלפו לי הימים עד שנת ט"ב. ואז היתה עוד הדת מטעם המלך בתקפו: לבלי קחת אשה טרם יבין לזכר ולכתוב שפת אשכנז ומלאכת החשבון, ויורני מורה אחד את כל הנחוך, והשגתי הרשיון לאמר לזכר טוב... אמנם גם אחרי אשר היה לי עזר כנגדי, בעד אשנבי שכלי נשקפתי וארא כי לא טוב היות האדם לבדו תלמודי ונעזר וריק מחכמת חכמי

שמונה ימים לירח שבט תקפ"ו יצאתי מרחם אמי פה דראהביטש. והורי הישרים בלבותם, ביתם היה פתוח לכל מבקשי טובתם, ובית ועד לחכמים ומביני מדע, ליראי ה' וחושבי שמו. על ברכיהם גדלתי ומשחר טל ילדותי היה כל ישעם וכל חפצם לנהלני על מבועי תורה ותעודה, ואני בתומי שקדתי על דלתות מלמדי להועיל אשר אך בתורת ה' מאויי נפשם. לכל בהם חיי רוחם, ולכל דבר חכמה
